With this the country falls
The small countries dotted around should show the will to surrender if I push
I finally reached it at Solstice .....
The military power to protect here shouldn't be left
Even if it's through sacrifice I.....
I want to put an end to this war
You'll have to suffer the tyranny of Gustaf for a while, I'm sorry

However the war will be over once this continent becomes one like that of the past days with the Emperor...

There's a person bearing a sword here...

FOR THE LOVE OF Scans

Well that's been a full day of releases, you wouldn't have thought that erasing and typesetting would take so long... well meh there's some creativity involved in this job so I don't mind it too much.

The most interesting thing for me today was seeing how fast these releases flew across the web, you really only have to upload once!

Well anyways this is as far as I've translated and will get back to the last few chapters of the volume after a few days.

As for further volumes, we'll see when I get to that, I might be able to fit in another chapter or two if I'm lucky before my free time is taken from me.

...gonna catch up on missed TV now, you lot this latest chapter while I get a breather
